

Programme – ENSA Elderly Network Meeting

ELDERLY SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

www.stockholm.se/aldeforvaltningen

Thursday 26th November 2009

09.00 Welcome to Stockholm!

Introduction and presentation - Barbro Karlsson, the City of Stockholm and Arja Peiponen, Coordinator of the Elderly Network, the City of Helsinki

09.30 AAL (Ambient Assisted Living) – Maria Gill and Stephen Von Rump

In Västerås the municipality for three years now has used an AAL-solution to support elderly informal caregivers. The service, called ACTION, and the Giraffe, a mobile remotely-controlled videophone will be presented and demonstrated

10.00 20 minutes coffee break

11.00 Technology for elderly – Ingela Sedin Nilsson, SIAT (to be confirmed)

The Swedish government invests in the elderly and has commissioned the Swedish Institute of Assistive Technology (SIAT) to manage the development program "Technology for Elderly" during 2007–2009 for a budget of 2 billion euro/year. The focus areas are housing, product and technology information and accessibility for elderly and their relatives. The program has over 100 ongoing projects run by companies, universities, R&D-centres, municipalities and organisations for senior citizens

12.00 Lunch

13.00 Study visit to Micasa – Maria Ehn (to be confirmed)

The City of Stockholm has chosen to place all of its assisted living housing in a single company, "Micasa Fastigheter i Stockholm AB". We will learn about the company Micasa and visit their new show-apartment with different technical and architect solutions for people with dementia

16.00 End of meeting

19.00 Welcome to restaurant
(will be booked when final numbers of participants are confirmed)

Friday 27th November

09.00 Introduction of the agenda of the day – Barbro Karlsson, the City of Stockholm

09.15 Aging Research Center – project “SpråkSam” – Bengt Larsson project Manager and Kerstin Sjösvärd, Project Manager

Many of the staff in elderly care does not have Swedish as their first language. Several of them have a lack of knowledge in Swedish which for them will result in a reduction of skills. Aging Research Center in Stockholm has received money from the European Social Fund to run a project called “SpråkSam”. It’s overall aim is to test and develop models and methods that increase the linguistic and communication skills.

10.10 Coffee

10.30 Presentation of the City of Stockholm’s freedom of Choice in home care services and special dwellings for the elderly – Barbro Karlsson, the City of Stockholm

11.20 Culture for Elderly and Healthy Activities, presentation of a project in the City of Stockholm – Git Skog, the City of Stockholm

12.00 Lunch

13.00 Sharing of projects ongoing, programs and calls

- CIP project – Marco d’Angelantonio and Dimitri De Rooze
- AAL Joint Programme – Silas Olsson and Marco d’Angelantonio (to be confirmed)
- Progress Program – Elena Curtopassi

14.00 Planning for the future, collaborations of projects, links to other networks (like Elisan) and coming meetings for the ENSA Elderly Network and General Assembly – Arja Peiponen, Coordinator of the Elderly Network, the City of Helsinki and Elena Curtopassi, Coordinator of ENSA, Veneto Region

15.00 Coffee

15.30 End of meeting

